

Obligations for Access to Interpreting Service Program for Allied Health Professionals

CESPHN has established the Access to Interpreting Service program to:

- Support access to the private allied health services by non-English speaking consumers
- Ensure interpreter services are available to the private allied health professionals working in private practice to communicate with non-English speaking consumers

What are the benefits to my practice?

- Access to TIS National
- Improved communication and coordination of care
- No cost to private allied health professional or consumer

CESPHN obligations:

- Deliver the Access to Interpreting Service program
- Maintain TIS National account and monitor access
- Ensure usage data is DE-identified for reporting purposes
- Receive and respond to private allied health professional feedback

Allied health professional obligations:

- Not be a recipient of other interpreting services
- Ensure the given client code is not misused and given to unauthorised users
- Comply with program usage requirements
- Provide TIS National with all the required information

You agree to these conditions for use of the Access to Interpreting Service program run by CESPHN and acknowledge the allied health professional obligations.
